2. The Conditions apply to the sale of Goods from the Grower to the Company. Reference to a "Party" is, unless the context otherwise requires, a reference to a party to the Supplementary Terms and "Parties" will be construed accordingly. In the event of any inconsistencies between the Conditions, the Supplementary Terms (comprising a Supply Agreement and/or PCC) or the AIC Contract then the order of precedence shall be as follows: (i) the PCC; (ii) the Supply Agreement; (iii) the Conditions; and (iv) the AIC Contract
3. Before 31 May (or any other date agreed by the Company) preceding the Crop Year the Grower shall provide data relating to the name and location of the fields in which the Goods are grown together with any other data that the Company reasonably requests and is relevant to the provenance, traceability, and sustainability of the Goods. This data shall be provided through the Company's online data sharing platform, or any other method agreed by the Company. Unless otherwise agreed by the Company then failure to provide this information will result in the Goods being rejected and clause 8 shall apply.
4. The Company reserves the right to inspect and sample the Goods at any stage up to and including their harvesting having given the Grower reasonable notice. Upon harvesting the Grower must submit a pre-collection Goods sample as notice that the Goods are available for collection. Final date for collections, by reference to the relevant Crop Year, will be 30 September for winter malting barley varieties and 31 October for spring malting barley varieties. Where the Grower fails to submit a pre-collection Goods sample the Company reserves the option to deem the Goods as rejected and clause 8 shall apply
5. The Goods will be accepted by the Company once each load is weighed, tested, inspected, and confirmed as meeting the Contract specification. The weights, tests and inspections determined by the Company are binding on the Grower. The Company will provide the Grower with a Weight Advice Note detailing the load sample results, the weight of the Goods collected and the date of collection. The Grower or their agent shall have the right to be present at the sampling location when samples are taken. The Company will retain load samples for 28 days from the date of collection, any disputes must be entered by the Grower within these 28 days.
6. The Company reserves the right to reject any load where the Contract specification is not met. The Contract specification will not be met where the Goods:
